

Simply Men's Health, South Florida's Leader in Men's Sexual Health, Introduces Revolutionary New ED treatment BoCox™

Newest medical breakthrough to achieve stronger, longer lasting erections, more intense orgasms, and restore your sexual vitality even when all else has failed.

BOCA RATON, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, February 6, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Even when

Viagra, pills and trimix stop working, no longer do men have to accept erectile dysfunction as an inevitable part of aging. Botox, better known for ironing out wrinkles, provides a revolutionary, NEW way to treat Erectile Dysfunction and restore your sex life.

Botox may have potential to improve the treatment of erectile dysfunction when standard drugs -- like Viagra -- have not worked”

Dr. Channa Jayasena, Andrologist at Imperial College London

In fact, Botox ED studies show that a single procedure cured ED for about six months in 40% of men in whom Viagra or Trimix did not work. In addition, after about six months, these men often noticed their flaccid penis length increased. Therefore, Botox may hold the answer to restoring sexual vitality even the most severe ED cases.

BoCox™ Botox for Erectile Dysfunction?

Although many ED studies showed the benefits of Botox for Erectile Dysfunction, there was no standardized protocol. Dr. Charles Runels, inventor of the Vampire facial® made famous by Kim Kardashian and the P-Shot, now introduces the BoCox™ ED Cure. Specifically, Dr Runels standardized the method of injecting Botox and PRP to improve erections and increase flaccid penis length.

Nationwide, Dr. Runel's has only trained and licensed a few doctors to provide the genuine BoCox™ procedure. In fact, Dr. J Katz, founder of Simply Men's Health serving Boca Raton, South

Florida and the Treasure Coast, is one of the first licensed providers of Dr. Runel's BoCox™

How Does Botox Improve Erectile Dysfunction?

No longer is Botox just for wrinkles. But, how does a neurotoxin known for erasing wrinkles result in harder, longer lasting, more intense erections and orgasms? Just as Botox erases wrinkles by blocking muscle contractions, similarly, it relaxes smooth muscles in penile blood vessels. As a result, blood flow into the penis increases.

Specifically, penile Botox injections improves erections and orgasms by the following mechanisms:

1. Relaxes smooth muscles in the walls of penile blood vessels increasing blood flow and length of the flaccid penis.
2. Increases nitric oxide production necessary for an erection
3. Blocks vasoconstricting sympathetic influence while enhancing parasympathetic response required for arousal, erections and orgasms
4. Promotes vascular endothelial growth factor which improves vasodilation. In addition, the growth factor helps repair and grow healthier penile tissue.

Safety of Botox for Treating Erectile Dysfunction?

Since Botox is botulinum neurotoxin, patients may wonder about safety. Although not FDA approved to treat ED, physicians report over a 20-year safety record using Botox. Specifically, studies show Botox injections for ED to be safe. As a frame of reference, the lethal dose of Botox for a 180 pound man is about 150 to 200 Botox bottles. In contrast, physicians inject only ONE bottle of Botox for ED. Therefore, patients do not need to fear Botox injections for ED.
