

Anchante Announces Updates to Its Conferencing Solution

SINGAPORE, February 7, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Anchante Solutions, a Singapore-based company delivering software development services, today launched significant updates to its next-generation videoconferencing platform.

Anchante™ is a multi-party, video conferencing, cloud-based service that enables the most efficient work-from-home or collaboration experience. It can also be used as a stand-alone service, as well as coupled with Anchante's or third-party technologies and solutions.

Anchante Solutions has improved the solution, and now Anchante™ is even more secure, with fully encrypted password-protected video conferences, avoiding any possibility of hacking into video meetings.

The key updates include the following:

Improved security and compliance

Anchante™ already had one of the most secure video conferencing platforms on the market, making it a very appealing alternative to many popular solutions. Now, the company has announced even more security enhancements to the service. Anchante™ will now feature DLP (Data Loss Prevention), Retention combined to ensure security and compliance for all Anchante users participants.

More engaging and immersive meetings

The recent updates will make Anchante™ even more intuitive, creating an inclusive and productive meeting environment to help facilitate fluid and compelling meeting experiences for all participants, regardless of their work mode — office or home.

Users can now overlay a presenter on top of shared content, creating a more natural, inclusive experience that mimics in-person presentations in virtual and hybrid environments. This feature allows presenters to be placed in front of any content or app, going beyond slides and creating a more dynamic and creative meeting experience.

About Anchante™

Explicitly designed for tech-savvy teams, Anchante™ helps sales, marketing, and customer success teams attract and retain customers through effective video interactions. With everything you need in one place – from automated scheduling and advanced video conferencing to embedded files and connected apps.
