For virtually all of her career, Ruzin has been incredibly passionate about spreading awareness on helping everyone achieve the American dream of homeownership. She is a fierce advocate for housing finance reform and common-sense credit policy.

Ruzin's editorial experience includes serving as Managing Editor and National Sales Manager for 20/20 Vision for Success Coaching and Managing Editor for Mortgage Women Magazine. Her 14 years of experience in home finance includes a number of roles, including Senior Vice President of Wholesale Operations for EPM, Vice President of Secondary Marketing for Guaranteed Rate, and Vice President and Director of Mortgage Product Development for Flagstar Bank.

Ruzin also has experience in the credit union space, where she served as Director of Real Estate Lending for Valley First Credit Union and Senior Vice President of Lending for Colorado Federal Credit Union. She started her career in the U.S. Army as a Signal Intelligence Analyst, where she held a top secret clearance.

"I am thrilled to take the lead at WRE News and to work next to real estate pioneers like John Stevens and Rick Grant," Ruzin said. "I look forward to the challenge of taking what has already been built and evolving the publication over the years to come. Knowledge is power, and our goal is to share impactful news with any reader who has influence in the Real Estate Ecosystem."

Ruzin is the winner of numerous prestigious industry awards, including Housing Wire's 2020 "Women of Influence" and National Mortgage Professional Magazine's 2020 "Women of Inspiration."
