

CinemaStory Helps Companies Host Successful Live Stream Events

DALLAS, TEXAS, USA, February 9, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- CinemaStory is pleased to announce that they help companies host successful live stream events to boost their engagement. Streaming events in real-time allows companies to increase attendance rates and makes it easier for individuals to attend from anywhere with an Internet connection.

Companies wishing to create a live streaming event can consult with the creative team at CinemaStory to discuss their expectations and determine whether the company can help them make an engaging event that captures attention. They will help clients choose the best platform for the event, with Facebook and YouTube generating the highest engagement rate. The live stream video production services set up the event and supply a link clients can share with their guests to make attendance simple. Their creative team is always available to answer questions and help clients decide the best methods for sharing their message with the most people.

CinemaStory specializes in hybrid events to boost engagement and ensure the best reach for content. Their creative video team can pre-record videos to promote and play as part of the live stream event. They create the perfect combination of live video feeds, pre-recorded videos, and graphics to ensure the best results for any occasion. Recording the live event allows clients to continue sharing the content with a larger audience over time.

Anyone interested in learning about their live stream video production services can find out more by visiting the CinemaStory website or calling 1-214-810-2497.
