/EINPresswire.com/ -- Laura Burke is undoubtedly pushing the boundaries in the literary world, judging by the feat she has achieved with her works over the years. In a related development, Laura has established herself as a force, with more than a decade of writing murder stories, taking the reading experience a notch higher with the book titled Black Orchid raking in all the awards and recognition from different quarters.

"I love writing and telling stories. It was a dream I wanted to fulfill." Laura Burke. "Each of my books has a surprise ending to each story."

Black Orchid offers a unique blend of mystery and romance, with the plot chronicling the ordeals of Wayne Minor in the small fishing village of Watch Hill. The book narrates the series of events that caused chaos in the peaceful Watch Hill after several mysterious Black Orchid blooms were found on the beach and the sudden death of residents.

The award-winning book has continued to enjoy accolades from readers in different parts of the world for its suspense and intrigue, leaving readers in anticipation of the next plot in the story. "This is an easy, breezy read with lots of twists and turns. It takes place on a small island off the coast of Connecticut inhabited by a few folks whose families go back generations. A perfect place for a quiet vacation until a mysterious, and impossible, lethal black orchid is found on the beach. Mystery after mystery develops, then the residents are thrown into total confusion and doubt. Residents that thought they knew everyone's secrets find out otherwise. This keeps you wondering all the way through to the action-packed ending." – Kindle customer.
