this decision. They also encouraged him and knew that he was on the right path.

THE DESTINATION ONWARDS

When asked about how he is gearing up to make a significant impact, he said that during his counselling sessions back then, he came across various students who were unaware of their potential. They were confused in choosing their career and required proper guidance- something that dug deep and made a lasting transformation to set them on the right path. Then, the U.S. Patented DMIT came to his attention which he believes is the perfect solution to the various concerns the students had.

He looked into the concept more, and felt that the Brainwonders U.S. Patented DMIT is a tool that helps to unwrap the innate potential of individuals. They can make a decision on what they actually love doing and can build a career roadmap. He was already able to see that the assessment would also make it easier for his many clients to understand their child's strength and ability.

Grateful to both his mentors- his father (whom he lost two years back) and his mother-in-law (a fearless entrepreneur with 25 years of experience). I have learnt, taking risks and decisions and then making them right. On getting acquainted with the thought-process that Dr. Shiv Shankar Pawar exhibited- Mr. Manish Naidu, (CEO & Founder, Brainwonders) added, "It is good to have Dr. Pawar added as one of our franchise partners. He can take the potential of DMIT to sharpen the innate potential of many."
