Former Broward County Mayor Michael Udine Recognizes Kevin Tacher CEO of Independence Title for Uncovering Real Estate Fraud in South Florida.

FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, February 10, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- At the Parkland Chamber of Commerce, Breakfast Former Broward County Mayor Michael Udine, alongside Broward County Property Appraiser Marty Kair recognized Kevin Tacher the CEO of Independence Title for his outstanding work in uncovering major real estate fraud schemes in Broward County, Florida, and the surrounding counties. The investigations, which took place over several years, exposed several individuals and companies that were involved in illegal and unethical practices in the local real estate market.

On behalf of the Broward County Commission, I am honored to recognize Kevin's efforts with this certificate of appreciation.

The investigative team at Independence Title, led by Kevin Tacher, their CEO, worked tirelessly to gather and analyze evidence, interview sources, and bring the findings to light. The result of their efforts was a comprehensive report that detailed the scope and extent of the fraud and named the individuals and companies involved. Several of these individuals have since been arrested and prosecuted.

"Kevin Tacher is someone that gives back," said Mayor Michael Udine. "Many people see things in this world and look the other way. Kevin has saved countless residents' livelihoods for those whose homes were about to be taken from them. We need people like Kevin on the front line protecting and serving the residents of Parkland and Broward County. On behalf of the Broward County Commission, I am honored to recognize Kevin's efforts with this certificate of appreciation."

Real estate fraud is the deliberate misrepresentation or concealment of facts to induce someone to buy, sell, or finance a property, often leading to financial loss for the victim."

Former Broward County Mayor Michael Udine presented Kevin Tacher, the CEO of Independence Title, with a Certificate of Appreciation on behalf of the Broward County Board of County Commissioners, which is given to individuals or organizations who have made a significant contribution to the community through their work.

"We are grateful to receive this award and proud of the work our team has done to expose real estate fraud across South Florida," said Kevin Tacher, the CEO of Independence Title. "We believe that we must serve our residents and make sure that those people conducting these schemes are held accountable at the fullest extent of the law."

Broward County Officials will continue to work with Kevin Tacher and other community partners to address the issues raised by the uncovering of these schemes and to take action to prevent similar fraudulent activities in the future.
