NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, February 12, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Business Minder Media is pleased to publish the conceptual design of an XRP Black Box that is currently in production.

The unique approach allows any seasoned developer and investor to build an automated trading black box of his/her own. Instead of focusing on identifying chart patterns and making predictions with market conditions, news, and public sentiment taking into consideration, the company's approach focuses on following existing traders and their trading activities and determining profitability based on extensive historical data analysis. The process can be broken down into:

1. Identifying and tracking investors & traders to follow
2. Tracking the price and market capitalization of the XRP cryptocurrency
3. Running simulations with account and market data
4. Making trades automatically via supported APIs

"A black box like this is now possible because everything about the cryptocurrency used (XRP in this case) is transparent, open to the public, widely adopted and traded," said Aaron, founder of Business Minder Media, "the same approach can be applied to any other cryptocurrency as long as it shares the same characteristics, market penetration, and API capabilities. We are not financial advisors, and developers interested in building out projects like this should understand the risks involved in automated trading."

The full documentation, including a video demonstration of the program running a simulation and performing data analysis, has been published online at <https://www.businessminder.net/xrp/blackbox-trading>
