

Nicus Announces World-Class ITFM/TBM for ServiceNow

Elevating IT Financial Management and expanding possibilities, powered by ServiceNow.

ROANOKE, VA, UNITED STATES,
February 13, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/
-- Nicus Software Inc, a leading vendor of IT Financial Management (ITFM) and Technology Business Management (TBM) solutions has announced a release of its ITFM/TBM solution built natively on the ServiceNow platform.

Taking advantage of the strategic value ServiceNow provides in the Public and Private sector markets, Nicus delivers class-leading cost-modeling, cost allocation, show-back and charge-back (Bill of IT) capabilities that are high-performance, flexible and highly scalable, all on the ServiceNow platform. Nicus will be generally available for purchase from the ServiceNow App Store mid-March of 2023.

Our solution delivers capabilities with the performance and scalability previously not available for ITFM/TBM on the ServiceNow platform."

John Clark, CEO

"We are very pleased to announce a mature ITFM/TBM solution for the ServiceNow platform derived from our years of successfully delivering IT cost optimization and spend transparency to a wide range of organizations. Our solution delivers capabilities with the performance and scalability previously not available for ITFM/TBM on the ServiceNow platform. With Nicus, customers can increase the value of their ServiceNow investment by providing a solution that delivers cost and value insights across the organization. This offering uniquely positions Nicus as the only provider with ITFM solutions delivered via multiple platforms - private cloud, or native on ServiceNow," said John Clark, CEO at Nicus.

ServiceNow related benefits:

- Designed from the ground up to run natively on the ServiceNow platform.
- Leverages ServiceNow best-in-class capabilities to simplify administration of user management, security controls, integration, and workflow capabilities.
- One place to manage all your data – no need for time consuming, expensive integration efforts.
- Quickly integrate other ServiceNow applications like Asset Management and CMDB for deeper cost insights and more informed decisioning.
- Takes advantage of ServiceNow's improvements to their platform over time
- Designed for scale and flexibility - to process large data sets, complex cost models, and billing calculations that many applications can't manage.
