ABOUT

Guatemalan- born & New Jersey-bred Alternative-Hip Hop artist and lyricist, H. Skywalker is a true icon. Skywalker first came across hip hop at the age of 12, when his family moved to the USA in 1995 and landed in Baltimore (B-MORE). Learning the words of Biggie Smalls, he quickly developed an understanding of English & began scribbling verses in his homework papers at school.

After relocating alongside his family to New Jersey, the artist connected with new acts such as Big Pun and Redman, expanding his intrigue of wordplay and melodies. This is where he began to construct songs, realizing a skillset that continued to grow as years passed by, alongside a brief return to his country before he fell in love with music again. After returning to NYC, Skywalker finally discovered his devotion and tone toward the melodic love songs that would become his repertoire. His recent articles can be found in Vents Magazine, Higher Frequency, 24 Hip Hop & Medium.
