

London is going to host the Largest Crypto & Blockchain Conference

LONDON, UK, February 16, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- After 4-years of its successful events chain despite the bear market, the Blockchain Economy Summit's 6th edition is scheduled for February 27-28, to be held in London, UK. This Major crypto event in the UK will host more than 3,000 attendees from 65 countries. As one of the main financial centers of the world, London is now also going to serve as a global hub for crypto industry. This is precisely why London is chosen to be one of the primary locations for the international Blockchain Economy Summit series. The UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak highlighted that making the UK crypto hub is now on his agenda: "It's my ambition to make the U.K a global hub for crypto-asset technology".

Previous editions of Blockchain Economy Summits were sponsored and attended by major players such as Crypto.com, Gate.io, Kucoin, BitMEX, Kraken, MicroStrategy, Microsoft, Amazon, Polygon, Meta and others. After 3 years of their continuous partnerships with the Blockchain Economy Summit, this year OKX announced its Exclusive Title Sponsorship for all Blockchain Economy Events of 2023, including the upcoming London Summit. It is important to note that OKX was the first transparent cryptocurrency exchange to release the proof of their reserves after the FTX collapse. The Exchange is now available in more than 192 countries.

Among the notable names of the Blockchain Economy London Summit Speakers are:

Dr. Lisa Cameron - the Member of UK Parliament, Chair of the Crypto and Digital Asset APPG

Lennix Lai - Managing Director, Financial Market at OKX

Lex Sokolin - Head Economist at Consensys

Delphine Forma - Compliance Manager at BitMex

Pieter Vanhove - Program Manager Security & Governance Azure Database Platform at Microsoft
