Waterfront Blues Festival, taking place July 1-4 2023 in Portland, Oregon

Now in its 36th year, Waterfront Blues Festival is one of the Pacific Northwest's most anticipated and beloved events. It draws a diverse and multigenerational crowd to the gorgeous setting of downtown Portland's Tom McCall Waterfront Park for a celebration of music, culture, and community, and is one of the most renowned, exciting and dynamic blues experiences in the world.

We're so proud to provide a place for music fans from all over our city, state and beyond to gather for four incredible days of music, in a setting that's so uniquely Portland”

Christina Fuller, Festival Director of the Waterfront Blues Festival.

“We're so proud to provide a place for music fans from all over our city, state and beyond to gather for four incredible days of music, in a setting that's so uniquely Portland,” says Christina Fuller, Festival Director of the Waterfront Blues Festival. “We love seeing families, long-time fans of the festival, and those experiencing the festival for the first time all dancing together, discovering their new favorite band and taking in all that the festival has to offer."

Waterfront Blues Festival is also one of the country's best fully independently-owned, operated and ticketed music festivals, creating an unparalleled showcase for both up-and-coming acts and legendary performers.

The 2023 festival will once again bring a world-class roster of local and national blues, soul, funk and R&B artists to four stages across 8 acres of Portland's Waterfront, as well as Oregon's largest July 4th fireworks show. The initial lineup will be announced on March 1st.

To date, the Waterfront Blues Festival has raised over $10 million dollars for local community organizations. In 2023, Waterfront Blues Festival continues this tradition by partnering with Meals on Wheels People, and Jeremy Wilson Foundation.
