

Ecosmob Introduces Next-Gen UC Solution Development Services For Businesses

Ecosmob Technologies announces its development services for innovative unified communications solutions for businesses.

AHMEDABAD, GUJARAT, INDIA, February 16, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ecosmob Technologies has announced its more innovative than ever unified communications development services. They have been building long-lasting UC solutions, allowing workforces to enjoy quick synchronization of real-time and non-real-time communication.

Good unified communications solutions must seamlessly combine real-time communications like VoIP with non-real-time communications like email and SMS. They integrate telephony, messaging, and video conferencing into a single service, enabling workforces to connect from anywhere.

"Our custom solutions for unified communications are built on robust and reliable open-source software platforms that leave a lot of room for innovation," said Maulik Shah, co-founder and CEO of Ecosmob Technologies. "They're impeccably encrypted solutions, making data breaches and intrusion for sensitive information impossible."

Ecosmob's custom-made UC solutions are built with features needed to help hit bigger goals by taking collaboration efficacies to another level.

Integrated Audio and Video Conferencing
Contact center Chat presence Softphone Secure sharing and storage of multimedia
Omnichannel and multi-device communication
Email/calendar integration Screen sharing and drawing
