“We rent out everything from portable standard restrooms, ADA restrooms, and hand-wash stations, to waste tanks, toilet trailers, and more. The innovative designs of our P-Pod Folding restrooms will change the way you think about port-a-johns forever.”

Curtis Ingalls says that a contemporary approach is essential to the success of NexGen P-Pod. This approach is illustrated by the utilizations of newly designed trucks to handle deliveries, pickups and services at the same time. This revolutionizes the industry by moving away from the standard practices and forging a new, more streamlined process with modern equipment.

Another major change in the industry is seen in our P-Pod units, which have a LunarGlo solar light installed, meaning you never have to enter a dark portable restroom again. We also utilize AirVote QR codes inside each restroom to get user feedback, allowing for modifications to ensure each customer is happy with the experience in every unit. Unlike other companies, we never have additional fees such as pick-up fee, delivery fee, or any other additional upcharges. We believe in simple, fair, flat rate pricing so that you always know the cost upfront. Our prices are also consistent year round.
