CBD has helped me take control of the pain and anxiety, and I hope that it can help others who desire a natural path to wellness.”

Says Sara: "When I was eight years old, I was hit by a car in front of my family's farm. I was thrown onto the hood of the car before landing in a grassy field along the highway with a concussion, two broken arms, and two broken legs, that left me tied to a hospital bed for six weeks. My arms and legs healed but I was left with severe PTSD and have dealt with pain issues throughout my life. CBD has helped me take control of the pain and anxiety, and I hope that it can help others who desire a natural path to wellness."

"We are so excited about our collaboration with Sara Evans," says CeleBriDy Brands founder Brian Mayes. "After hearing her story, we knew that we needed to create something special. Sara put her personal touch on everything from the stunning rose gold packaging to the incredible strawberry champagne flavor, and she even topped the oil tinctures with her very own signature. Born to Fly CBD will not only thrill her fans, but provide a path to self care for those that need a little lift under their wings.

Adds Sara: "We were all Born to Fly, sometimes we just need a little help."
