Trending Printer Market Trend

Advancing technologies are gaining popularity in the printer market. Major companies operating in the printing industry are focusing on developing advanced technology solutions for printers. For instance, in July 2022, Sharp Electronics of Canada Ltd., a Canada-based distributor of office equipment and electronic consumer goods, announced the new BP Advanced and Essentials

Multifunctional Printer Series. The elegant cabinet design with easy-roll casters, soft-close paper drawers, and contemporary color scheme make this series a perfect fit for any office environment. Improved cloud service connectivity, such as with Microsoft Teams, makes it simple to streamline communication, and native Microsoft Universal Print capability facilitates integration with Microsoft 365 environments that benefit from simplified print management. Innovative features like multi-feed scan detection and improved auto skew correction help ensure jobs are done correctly the first time, every time. With the 300-sheet duplexing single pass feeder on Advanced Series models, users can scan documents at up to 280 images per minute.
