

LORD'S SCHOLARS grant program has doubled its grant funding

LONDON, UK, February 23, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In 1954 the idea of a Trust that saw to the perpetuation and propagation of the history and impact of Hasley Manor was conceived. One of Henry Harris' (18th Lord of Hasley) wishes after deeding the historic Hasley Manor was to see that the Lordship continued to have a positive impact as a noble steward of the area. The Trust did not foresee that it would be without a Lord for nearly 70 years. The Trust administered the scholarship fund every year. We are now glad to have our newly appointed Dr James Allister Odd, 19th Lord of Halsey, overseeing the program as was originally intended.

The British Hasley Manor Trust has doubled the funding allocation for the Lord Scholar's Grant Program to celebrate Lord Hasley's installation.

The Lord's Scholars Grant Program is a funding initiative to support education, historical research, and the arts. The program offers three separate grants, each with its specific focus. The first grant is worth £10,000 and is intended for educational purposes. The second grant, worth £5,000, is for those conducting historical research. Finally, the third grant, worth £5,000, is for individuals and organizations in the arts sector.

These awards are granted annually, and past recipients are eligible to reapply.

The Lord and Lady of Hasley are responsible for choosing each recipient based on the merits of the prepared applicant proposal in a process that removes demographic data.

To ensure a fair and transparent process, applicants must approach their schools or community arts associations to apply for the grants. This approach protects the applicants' personal information and helps maintain a bias-free selection process. These grants provide valuable financial support to those pursuing these fields and help to encourage growth and development in these important areas. Ask your advisor about the Lord's Scholars Grant.

Note: The Lord and Lady of Hasley will never directly solicit money or personal information. If you receive correspondence from someone requesting money or personal information claiming to be the Lord or Lady, please report it to fraud@hasley.co.uk.
