

Non-Animal Alternative Testing Market Size Worth USD 29.4 billion by 2030 | CAGR of 13.5%

increased risk of chronic diseases among millennials, especially older populations, contributing to the non-animal alternative testing market growth

PUNE , MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, February 23, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Non-animal alternative testing refers to the use of methods and techniques that do not involve the use of animals for testing the safety or efficacy of drugs, chemicals, cosmetics, or other products. It aims to replace, reduce, or refine the use of animals in laboratory testing and research, which is also known as the 3Rs principles. Non-animal alternative testing is increasingly being used by regulatory agencies, such as the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and the European Union's European Chemicals Agency (ECHA), to assess the safety and efficacy of products. The use of non-animal alternative testing methods has many benefits, including reducing animal suffering, improving the accuracy and reliability of testing results, and accelerating the development of new products.
