Pork Jerky Market Report

The global pork jerky market demand is expected to witness a surge owing to the rise in consumption of savory snacks in the households. The higher protein content in pork meat and the easy to cook feature of pork jerky makes it a preferable snacking option among the household consumers. Further, the rise in household income, increase in at-home consumption of food, growth in the penetration of online grocery and food delivery platforms, and surge in penetration of HoReCa (hotels, restaurants, and cafes) in the developing nations are the prominent factors expected to drive the global pork jerky market growth during the forecast period.

The penetration of hotels, cafes, restaurants, supermarkets, and hypermarkets, which serves as the prominent distribution channels for pork jerky market, is experiencing rapid growth with rise in urbanization and surge in urban population. According to the United Nations, 60% of the global population is expected to live in urban areas by 2030, increasing from 55% in 2018. Therefore, rise in awareness regarding pork jerky and surge in urban population are the major factors expected to offer lucrative growth opportunities to the manufacturers of pork jerky in the developing economies. Moreover, the proliferation of cold storage technologies has significantly boosted the growth of the pork meat industry.

The use of blockchain technology in the animal meat industry is in its early stages. The use of blockchain technology ensures transparency, traceability, efficiency, and sustainability in the animal meat industry. The awareness regarding meat quality and traceability is growing in the meat industry and the use of blockchain technology can provide assurance related to meat quality and enhance traceability. JBS S.A. announced the 'Together for the Amazon' program in 2020, under which JBS would progressively use blockchain technology to achieve sustainability and conserve the rainforests of Amazon.

According to the pork jerky market analysis, the global pork jerky market is segmented on the basis of consumption, type, nature, and distribution channel. By consumption, the market is divided into food at home (FAH) and food away from home (FAFH). Both the FAH and FAFH segments are further segmented based on flavor into maple, sriracha applewood, pepper, and others. The others segment includes flavors like sweet, spicy, Jalapeno, and others.

By type, it is segregated into spicy, sweet, salty, and savory. By nature, the market is bifurcated into organic and conventional. By distribution channel, the market is categorized into HoReCa (hotels, restaurants, and cafes), modern trade, independent groceries and retailers, and online sales. Region-wise, the pork jerky market is analyzed across North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and LAMEA (Latin America, Middle East, and Africa).

According to the pork jerky market trends, by type, the savory is expected to be the fastest-growing segment, growing at a CAGR of 7.8% during the forecast period. The growing demand for the animal protein among the non-vegetarian population and the changing taste and preferences of the consumers is expected to drive the demand for the savory pork jerky. The high protein content in the pork jerky along with the savory taste helps to provide necessary nutrition and helps in healthy aging. The rising demand for the healthy and nutritional snacks among the consumers is expected to boost the growth of the savory pork jerky segment in the global pork jerky industry.

As per the pork jerky market opportunity, based on nature, the organic segment is expected to witness the highest CAGR of 8.3% from 2022 to 2031. The rising health consciousness among the consumers and rising awareness regarding the negative impacts of chemical-based food products on health and environment are the major factors that are expected to boost the growth of this segment. According to the Organic Trade Association (OTA), in 2020, U.S. witnessed an all-time high sales of organic food products.

Region-wise, the pork jerky market was dominated by North America, with 38.7% share in 2021, followed by Europe. The increase in popularity of fast-food chains, cafes, and hotels has significantly enhanced the growth of the processed meat market in North America and Europe. North American pork jerky market is anticipated to grow due to a surge in the working population, an increase in disposable income, and higher demand for ready-to-cook and ready-to-eat food products.
