there, too, as well as their sales lead, the mighty Raul of Spain, who will also be there, reassuring his clients with his familiar, most benevolent smile. After this, Raul will shoot back to Spain and take over the role of operating their European office.

Since the onset of COVID, New Times Hair has been unable to meet its clients offline. However, throughout the years, while the pandemic raged, they still managed to answer customer queries promptly and poured all their minds into perfecting their website, making it more viewer-friendly and intuitive. Now buyers can order everything online. Soon as the items hit the cart, the system will automatically get the wholesale price for the buyer. The products will be shipped immediately as they complete the purchase.

New Times Hair is among the few hair-making giants who had seen an increase throughout the pandemic era. In late 2022, while the pandemic still ran amok, New Times Hair added hair extensions to their collections. Now, in less than half a year, all hair extension methods are available in their warehouse and ready to ship.

Now, after three challenging years, New Times Hair is thrilled to announce its participation in the upcoming Beauty Dusseldorf Trade Fair in Germany from April 1 to 2nd, 2023. Their sales representatives and CEO are eager to connect with their clients and business partners, addressing their queries, considering their suggestions, and exploring ways to enhance its products and services.

The trade fair is fast approaching. New Times Hair is ready to bring on board new designs and recommendations for their products or business operations from all visitors around the world!
