We are forecasting a potential parabolic move in the energy, technology, and commodities over the next 90 day's .

A parabolic move occurs when the speed at which the stock's or commodities price goes up or down and increases exponentially. In other words, a parabolic stock is a stock that starts going up or down really fast, and violently We realize with this type of volatility , and “the rise of the machines” with high frequency trading . It's all about managing risk , you will see substantial opportunities to find value , both on the long side as well as the short side. We are predicting Institutional money “the smart money “,will deploy cash in our opinion , You will see large inflows of capital coming into the market.

We have identified Beta value, Beta (β) is a measure of the volatility—or systematic risk—as a firm we have identified these equities and will be enhancing our coverage

IBM International Business Machines Corp. Technology
ZBH Zimmer Biomet Holdings Inc Healthcare

As a firm we were extremely fortunate establishing long positions in Tesla, Meta, Nvidia, Palo Alto Network , WH Grainger , and Lam Research Corp Since the beginning of January by being on the right side of the market .

With Geo political events- China Ukraine and Russia , we are forecasting unprecedented volatility , so Balfour Capital Group will be deploying extensive risk reward models for its funds and its discretionary trading programs. The firm maintains, that customer service will be paramount during these volatile times. It is 24/7 deployment strategy
