

Miller & Miller's online-only Petroliana & Advertising auction, March 11th, features a red 1951 Ford convertible car

The 390-lot auction feature automobiles, petroliana (gas station collectibles), breweriana (beer collectibles), soda advertising, bicycles, advertising signs.

NEW HAMBURG, ONTARIO, CANADA, February 27, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Ford brand will take center stage in Miller & Miller Auctions, Ltd.'s online-only Petroliana & Advertising auction planned for Saturday, March 11th, beginning at 9 am Eastern time. The top two expected lots are a 1951 Ford convertible, Carnival Red, an excellent survivor car; and a scarce 1940s Canadian Ford Monarch porcelain dealer sign.

The 1951 Ford convertible retains the original 239 cubic inch flathead V8 engine with two-barrel carburetor and a three-speed manual transmission, with a Borg-Warner overdrive. Features include a deluxe radio and heater, rocker moldings, factory signals and spotlight, front bumper guard and backup light. It's a mostly original low-mileage survivor with a straight-fitting body.

Professionally repainted in Carnival Red, the car also boasts the original interior, original glass, the original (well-worn) convertible top, the original top boot and a professionally replaced rear window. The car has just 82,870 original miles. It was built in Windsor, Ontario and spent years in Edmonton, in a salt-free environment. It drives well and is expected to bring $20,000-$25,000.

All prices quoted are in Canadian dollars.

The Canadian 1940s single-sided porcelain Ford Monarch dealer sign with bullnose ends is quite rare and should fetch $12,000-$15,000. It would have originally been displayed with a second sign, identical to this one, attached back-to-back, creating a double-sided sign. The sign, 45 ¼ inches by 74 ½ inches, does exhibit patches of porcelain loss but has exceptional color and gloss.

The rest of the auction – 309 lots total – is packed with categories that include automobiles, petroliana (gas station collectibles), breweriana (beer collectibles), soda advertising, bicycles, advertising signs and more. As this is an online-only auction, there is no in-person event to attend, but bidders can tune in to the live webcast on March 11th to watch lots close in real time.

A Canadian 1940s White Rose Gasoline three-piece single-sided porcelain banner sign – the more difficult-to-find scaled up version of the set, with the round center sign 48 inches in diameter (typically 36 inches) and each of the banners 119 ½ inches long (typically 94 ½ inches), should realize $9,000-$12,000; while a Canadian 1950s North Star Gasoline double-sided porcelain service station sign, 71 ¼ inches in diameter, has an estimate of $7,000-$9,000.

A 1930s French Canadian single-sided porcelain sign for Molson’s Beer, a “hotel sign” with script in French that translates to “Here we serve Molson’s Beer”, rare, with great color and gloss, 23 ¼ inches by 48 ¼ inches, should garner $6,000-$9,000. Also, an American Coca-Cola double-sided porcelain drug store sign, marked "Tenn Enamel Mfg. Nashville" and "Made in U.S.A. 1933" lower left, 48 inches by 63 inches, is also expected to hammer for $6,000-$9,000.

A Canadian 1930s Red Indian Gasoline single-sided porcelain service station sign, 60 inches in diameter, marked "The W. F. Vilas Co. Limited, Cowansville, P.Q." on the lower center edge, carries a pre-sale estimate of $7,000-$9,000; while a Canadian 1930s Red Indian Marathon Blue Gasoline pump globe lens in reverse baked glass, extremely rare, 13 ½ inches in diameter, with the edge factory notched at 3 o'clock and 9 o'clock, should leave the room for $4,000-$6,000.

A Canadian 1930s McColl-Frontenac single-sided porcelain grease gun holder sign, marked "The W. F. Vilas Co. Limited, Cowansville, P.Q." lower edge, 64 inches by 40 ¼ inches, should ring up $6,000-$9,000. Also, a Canadian 1940s Imperial 3-Star Gasoline double-sided porcelain service station sign, the naming of the three stars at the end of NHL hockey games inspired by Esso 3 Star gasoline in 1936, 40 ¾ inches by 60 ½ inches, is estimated to make $4,000-$6,000.

An American 1940s Sinclair Service Station single-sided porcelain neon banner sign with raised border, assembled in two sections, marked "S-2-14" in the lower far right edge, having an overall length of 166 inches, has a pre-sale estimate of $4,000-$6,000. Also, a Canadian 1940s Imperial Oil 3 Star Gasoline double-sided porcelain service station sign in the original porcelain frame measuring 27 ¾ inches by 40 ¼ inches, with light surface etch, should sell for $3,500-$5,000.

A Canadian 1930s Goodyear Tires single-sided porcelain dealer sign featuring a diamond pattern tire tread border, measuring 27 ¾ inches by 39 ¾ inches, should settle at $3,500-$5,000; while an American 1930s Firestone Farm Tires single-sided porcelain horizontal sign, marked "Ing-Rich. Bea" (Beaver Falls, Pa.), 21 inches by 71 inches, is also expected to command $3,500-$5,000.

Bringing things full circle back around to Ford, an American 1940s Ford Dealer single-sided porcelain sign made for neon, made by Frohling Sign Company (Nanuet, N.Y.), a company that continues operating to this day, 29 ½ inches by 60 ½ inches, has an estimate of $3,500-$5,000.
