History of Darry Ring ID Verification Ring

Darry Ring was born at the beginning of the 21st century when people lost confidence in love, which inspired Darry Ring to take the initiative to “make love better”. Darry Ring, who was born in this era, on the other hand, has always believed that true love has existed and that the ideal form of love is to have only one partner throughout one’s lifetime. Tony & Wendy, the founders of Darry Ring, thought of the ID number as the closest thing to the uniqueness of a lifetime. Every person on earth has a unique ID number, which is consistent with the brand’s ideology. Therefore, they made ID verification a requirement of the brand rule and established a limit of one exclusive DR diamond ring purchase per person per lifetime using the ID card. This is how the ID verification ring idea was developed.

How Does ID Verification Ring Fulfill a Lifetime Commitment?

Identity verification is done during the process of purchasing a DR diamond engagement ring. The major purpose of this phase, according to the official website, is to determine whether you are a first-time purchaser.

The marketing manager of the brand states that, “While it is a characteristic that distinguishes Darry Ring from other engagement ring brand, identity verification is merely one component of the ID verification ring. We have also introduced a True Love Agreement signing process and a True Love Inquiry System, designed to give true love believers the assurance of a lifetime commitment and the ultimate security.”

“True Love Agreement is an agreement that users need to sign after making a purchase. It serves as proof of their firm choice for one other and the lifetime commitment they have made. By signing the True Love Agreement separately, you and your partner are signifying that you have chosen each other as soulmates and will stay together for life in the presence of Darry Ring.” The marketing manager continued.

The brand has also introduced the True Love Inquiry System to assist consumers in testing their true love. By inputting the buyer's ID number and the registered email address, you can access the True Love Agreement and purchase history on the official website.

How Does the ID Verification Ring Protect Personal Privacy?

Despite the novelty of identity verification process, there are still many consumers who are concerned about the security of identity verification and whether it will cause privacy leakage. In response to this concern, the marketing manager said, "Darry Ring ID verification ring respects user's privacy. Once the couples complete the signing of True Love Agreement, the identity information and purchase history will be permanently bound together in an irreversible technical archive in the system." "Darry Ring does not provide services to modify or delete purchase records. And for the True Love Inquiry System will only be effective if the buyer agrees."
