MIAMI, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, March 1, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Istituto Marangoni Miami is pleased to announce a partnership with the Brazilian outfit of the world's most prestigious fashion magazine, Vogue, for the second consecutive year. Aimed at scouting the top emerging talent in fashion and interior design from Brazil, the scholarship offers students the opportunity to study at Istituto Marangoni Miami.

Applicants must submit scholarship projects in the areas of Design, Styling, Business, and Interior Design by May 22nd. Ten winners will be announced on May 26th. This year's jury will be comprised by: Hakan Baykam, President of Istituto Marangoni Miami, Barbara Migliori, Fashion Director of Vogue Brazil, Keanan Duffty, Dean of Fashion of Istituto Marangoni Miami, Mario Braghieri, Program Leader of Fashion Design at Istituto Marangoni Miami, Thelma Lazo-Flores, Program Leader of Interior Design at Istituto Marangoni Miami, Nathalie Tessier, Program Leader of Fashion Business at Istituto Marangoni Miami, and Juanita Crary, Program Leader of Fashion Styling at Istituto Marangoni Miami.

The scholarship program is running through the Miami Fashion Foundation. Founded by Hakan Baykam in 2020, the Miami Fashion Foundation provides educational support and skill-training in the form of scholarships, workshops, and events for fashion-field students and businesses in South Florida. Cultivating these emerging talents and enterprises into highly skilled fashion professionals will in turn attract companies which will draw even more creative design students and professionals to Miami, thus creating a self-sustaining cycle. Through education, followed by networking and mentoring, leading to the establishment of fashion companies who have open access to industry leaders, resources and capital, Miami's position as a fashion-industry hub will be further cemented.
