

My Virtual launches initiative supporting entrepreneurs and small businesses

New London based virtual assistant initiative MY Virtual enables entrepreneurs and small businesses to focus their time and efforts where it matters most

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, March 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- My Virtual has many years of experience supporting individuals and businesses within the music and corporate industries to build on successes and grow financially.

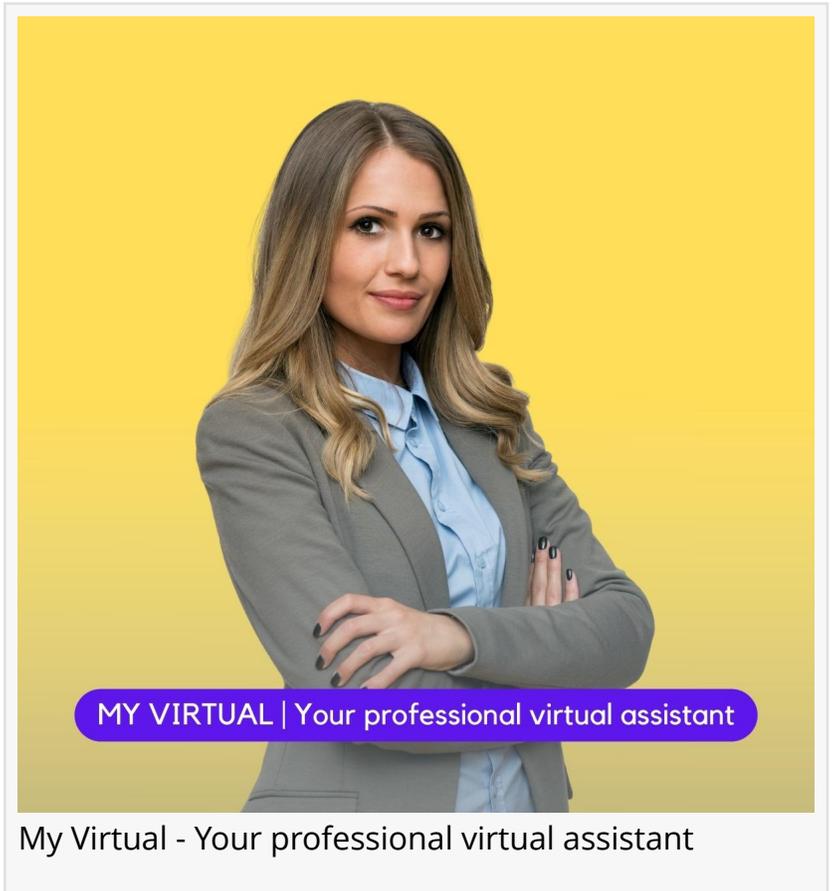

Virtual assistants (or VAs) are a powerful way to build a successful business. They provide smart and flexible support, so businesses can focus on the tasks that really matter, specifically benefitting smaller businesses and entrepreneurs.

VAs can focus on parts of a business, leaving decision makers free to focus on developing and building relationships with their clients, or on revenue generation pursuits.

Managing director of My Virtual, Andrea Jeffrey-Hall said "You can think of My Virtual as the team member you need to scale to the next level in your business. It's a very exciting time to offer businesses the agile support they need to drive growth and make a profitable impact in their ventures."

You may hire a VA to do basic tasks like transcribing notes from a meeting, researching content for a blog, or helping to organise your hotel or flights.

My Virtual's innovative assistants can also fill an expertise gap, acting as a powerful business ally.
