candidate matching, hiring manager collaboration, hiring efficiency, temporary placements, payroll and invoicing and recruitment analytics.

By combining Jobma's cutting-edge video interviewing technology with JobAdder's robust applicant tracking system, recruiters can now benefit from a complete solution that streamlines the entire recruitment workflow. This Integration will enable users to set up video interviews, evaluate candidate responses and share those interviews without leaving the JobAdder dashboard thereby making their recruitment processes more effective, saving time, and reducing costs associated with the hiring process.

Krishna Kant, Managing Partner at Jobma, said "We are incredibly excited to partner with JobAdder. This partnership and Integration will be a game-changer for our customers. Our innovative and dynamic video interviewing technology combined with the comprehensive applicant tracking system offered by JobAdder, will offer recruiters an unparalleled recruitment experience. The integration of our platforms will enable recruiters to manage their recruitment processes more efficiently, significantly reducing the time and effort required to screen top talent."

Regina Dinneen, Head of Product: Partnerships and Integrations at JobAdder added, "We're thrilled to be partnering with Jobma. The integration of our software solutions will enable our customers to have a seamless, end-to-end experience that delivers real value to their businesses."

The partnership between Jobma and JobAdder marks a significant milestone, bringing together two leading companies to deliver a best-in-class solution to customers.
