

The 54th International Paris Air Show and Aviation Week Network announce partnership to run Paris Air Mobility

Taking place on June 19 - 25, this unique event will be the top destination for key players in the advanced air mobility (AAM) ecosystem

PARIS, FRANCE, March 6, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The 54th International Paris Air Show and Aviation Week Network announce partnership to run Paris Air Mobility. Taking place on June 19 - 25, this unique event will be the top destination for key players in the advanced air mobility (AAM) ecosystem.

Paris, France – 6 March 2023 – Aviation Week Network, the largest multimedia information and services provider for the global aviation, aerospace, and defense industries, and the 54th edition of the Paris Air Show, today announced a partnership to run Paris Air Mobility during the 2023 event at Le Bourget.

Paris Air Mobility will showcase the latest innovations and emerging technologies in eVTOL and bring together key players in this dynamic community for networking and knowledge exchange. Located in Hall 5, the event will combine an exhibition area, where manufacturers and start-ups can display their revolutionary products and services, alongside an industry leading conference program, where senior-level speakers will provide analyses and insights on the current state of the AAM market and how to drive the industry forward.

Paris Air Mobility will deliver a high level, innovative, forward-looking program of advanced air mobility content across 3 days during the Paris Air Show, bringing together subject matter experts to provide thought leadership on key challenges and opportunities facing the eVTOL

About the International Paris Air Show

Established in 1909, the International Paris Air Show is the most important show in the world for the aerospace industry. At the last show in 2019, over 2,500 companies exhibited and almost 300 top level Official Delegations and some 140,000 Trade Visitors came from the world over. In France, the show is a real driver for this sector and a major catalyst for much international collaboration. As such it is the place where the sector's decision makers choose to meet and gather as they come here to exhibit, sell and buy all the latest innovations. Since the Show is so massively popular with the worldwide aerospace community and the General Public, it offers unrivalled opportunities for conducting business, and for being seen and known. An absolute key event for the whole profession, the International Paris Air Show is organised by SIAE.
