demand for places to stay many residents have become creative with their bed and breakfast builds. One of the best-known places for its creativity is The Avery Ridge Ranch which is located just outside of town. The owners of this property have decided to convert railroad containers into tiny homes. The name of these 2 units is "The Best Little Bed and Breakfast in Fredericksburg Texas and The Best Fredericksburg Texas Bed and Breakfast. The units have 4 patios including a 1500 sqft common deck, as well as a 400 sqft upper deck that provides scenic views of the Texas Hill Country. The Owners have plans for 3 more units to be finished in 2023.

These tiny homes can be found on a 31-acre Ranch which showcases long horns, peacocks, African geese, exotic black bucks, Nigerian dwarf goats, Swedish ducks, turkeys, a variety of free-range chickens, and many other native to texas species that roam the ranch. This property has plans to become one of the top wedding venues in Fredericksburg. Avery Ridge Ranch has recently begun construction on exotic bird aviaries, walking paths, and glamping experiences. The property comes alive at night with string lights and Texas Hill Country vibes. In addition to the Bed And Breakfasts the Avery, Ridge Ranch is due to add a reception center and bar that can be rented out by corporate events and wedding parties. This new bar will give way to live music, retail opportunities, and likely catering.

In conclusion, there seems to be no slowing down in the production of Bed And Breakfasts in Gillespie County. Bed and Breakfast are popping up in Kerrville, Harper, Mason, Brady, Johnson City, Comfort, Stonewall, Hye, Doss, and Llano.
