conference in Palm Springs, CA on March 5, 2023.

INCATech was one of three Esri partners in the Esri Partner Network (EPN) recognized at the conference for excellence in their work with Esri in the US Federal Government market.

INCATech is an SBA certified, 100% Woman-Owned Small Business, delivering integrated geospatial solutions and comprehensive geospatial support services to Civilian, DoD, and Intelligence Community customers within the US Government. Our solutions bridge organizational data, information, and processes with Esri technology to solve some of our government's most pressing mission challenges. In a growing partnership between INCATech and Esri, our staff are working together as Integrated Product Teams (IPT) supporting essential programs such as the NTIA's National Broadband Availability Map (NBAM) that geo-enables Federal, Tribal, State, and Local offices working to ensure reliable, affordable, and equitable access to high-speed internet.

From building out award winning situational awareness platforms within DHS, to developing and implementing geospatial data strategies for the Department of State, INCATech focuses on maximizing the capabilities of Esri's ArcGIS Platform and continually integrating emerging products (including GeoAnalytics Engine and ArcGIS Knowledge to address increasingly complex customer data needs. INCATech values this highly collaborative partnership with Esri and our Federal Government customers and is continuing to expand the innovative solutions our geospatial practitioners are bringing to "missions that matter".

Esri is the global leader in location intelligence with a network of 2800 EPN partners around the world. The award winners have demonstrated exceptional ways to deliver solutions to the US

Federal Government with Esri's ArcGIS software to advance the use of geographic information system (GIS) technology by these organizations.

"Esri congratulates INCATech on their 2023 Federal Small Business Specialty Partner of the Year award in recognition of their work leveraging the ArcGIS software," said Robert Laudati, Director of Global Partners and Alliances at Esri. "We are proud to partner with INCATech to foster the use of Esri technology in support of our mutual US Federal Government customers."
