

Element Urns Introduces its Proprietary Ceramic Urn Line Exclusively for Funeral Homes

New ceramic urn line from Element Urns becomes the latest exclusive funeral home offering from the company.

GREENWOOD VILLAGE, COLORADO, USA, March 7, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Element Urns, a division of The Living Urn, is excited to announce that it is introducing three new proprietary ceramic urn styles, the Norwood, Elmwood, and Edgewood, and offer these exclusively to funeral homes and cremation service providers.

Mark Brewer, company President, commented, "We're excited to complete our first production run of three new ceramic urn styles – all made right here in the United States and each with a unique and elegant look and feel. This new proprietary ceramic urn line will only be offered to our industry customers through the Element Urns catalog and the branded webstores we're creating for our funeral home partners."

Brewer continues, "We believe this new ceramic line, along with our other proprietary urns and keepsakes we're introducing to the funeral industry and the branded webstores we're providing our funeral home partners, will make Element Urns a go-to supplier of urns and keepsakes for thousands of funeral homes throughout the U.S."

Element Urns ships its new ceramic urns and other proprietary urns and keepsakes from its production and warehouse facility in Denver, Colorado.
