homes. You name it, we'll look at it. We formed this company so we could be 100% dedicated to finding the best opportunities and ensuring success for the next generation.”

According to Group President Brian Davidson, who has executive oversight of Van Metre New Homes, BASE, Design + Build, and now Land, "Van Metre always has focused on land. It's our lifeblood, and we recognize that." With over 65 years of experience, the Van Metre ecosystem of real estate companies is recognized throughout the industry for their expertise. "All our operating experience across multiple business platforms will be leveraged under one development umbrella," said Matt Davis, Director of Land Acquisition. "This allows Van Metre Land to focus on building new developments that deliver a diversity of commercial and residential products," he added.

Kevin Campbell, Senior Vice President Van Metre Land Company, has a vision to build remarkable places that provide value to the community. “We care about our relationships with landowners, partners, community leaders, and customers. Our commitment to honesty, transparency and trust results in thoughtful communities where people want to live, work and enjoy an enhanced quality of life,” added Campbell.

Van Metre Land’s focus on acquisition, community design and development enables Van Metre’s existing operations to focus on award-winning execution and best-in-class customer service. Acquiring new land ultimately contributes to the company’s holdings and lays the foundation for future success.

“Location is one of the key factors when someone is looking for a place to call home. We get to be directly involved in the evolution of the land parcel to development, then into a community where individuals will live, work and play,” said Dawn L. Klassen, Director of Land Acquisition. “We are the catalyst to creating the American Dream.”
