The rehabilitation programs at We Level Up's New Jersey treatment facility have received distinguished CARF accreditation. After thoroughly examining proper credentials and treatment modalities, the We Level Up NJ rehab center qualifies as a CARF Certified treatment center.

The We Level Up treatment center network is proud to have been awarded multiple rehab accreditations. The newest CARF accreditation adds to prior rehab accreditation, including the Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval award. We Level Up is pleased to announce that its New Jersey addiction facility has received its first CARF certification.

Among the highest level of certification a treatment center can receive is the CARF accreditation decision. It reflects We Level Up treatment center's significant commitment to providing high-quality care and the staff and facilities' adherence to achieving CARF accreditation.

What is a CARF Certification?

Only premier treatment facilities offering the highest caliber of care are eligible for the prestigious CARF Accreditation certification. The We Level Up NJ treatment center underwent a thorough review to receive CARF treatment center accreditation. During an on-site review, our staff demonstrated to a CARF certification team of surveyors our dedication to providing top-notch medical treatment and services.

CARF certification is seen as a mark of excellence and can assist in distinguishing accredited programs from those not. By guaranteeing that the program they select complies with high standards of care, it can also help patients and their families.

Through a consultative accreditation process and ongoing improvement services focused on improving the lives of the people served, the independent, nonprofit accrediting body CARF seeks to promote service quality, value, and best results.

The We Level Up team is Proud to Meet CARF Accreditation ASAM Level Of High-Quality Care Standards.

The We Level Up treatment program must show that it complies with certain requirements to receive CARF Accreditation at this level. These requirements relate to the quality and effectiveness of services, staff qualifications and training, patient and family participation in treatment planning, evidence-based practices, data to measure outcomes, and dedication to ongoing quality improvement.

Achieving the highest level of accreditation at the ASAM Level of Care 3.7 or higher demonstrates that a program has met the highest standards of care and treatment for patients with substance use disorders. CARF accreditation is recognized as a symbol of quality in substance abuse treatment.
