LONDON INTERNATIONAL
CREATIVE COMPETITION

At the London International Creative Competition, we strive to recognize and reward the world's most fresh and progressive creative talents, connected by their originality and brightest works."

Director*

This year's competition received over 4,000 entries from more than 90 countries. The judging panel, consisting of renowned experts and professionals in the creative industry, had the herculean task of selecting the best among the best. After careful consideration and review, the winners for the 2022 competition have been chosen.

Aline Martins, Program Director of the competition, shared her thoughts about the winners, "At the London International Creative Competition, we strive to recognize and reward the world's most fresh and progressive creative talents, connected by their originality and brightest works.

With finalists hailing from Iran to India, from Ecuador to Ireland, and from Italy to the U.S, we are proud to have such outstanding submissions for the 2022 LICC edition."

Winning artists such as Michael Pantuso, Professional Winner in Create (art), surprised the jury with their endless creativity and juxtaposition of interesting elements. Chalet Jelovac by Sonja Radovic Jelovac was named Professional Winner in Build (architecture) for its masterful implementation of functionality and nature. Professional Winner in Decorate (interior) Yota Hokibara invented a fresh concept on how interiors can serve all of the individual's needs: a residence, a studio, a workspace and showroom have all been added to increase multi-faceted functionality.

An homage to the traditional crafts spoke to the jury members through the work of Jesvin Yeo, Professional Winner in Illustrate (graphic). The breathtaking artwork is a record of 28 traditional crafts that have disappeared or will disappear in the next 20 years. Winner in Shoot (photo/video) was Ursula Ferrara with her striking photograph Unbroken, a work made by wet plate technique, breaking the glasses, then fixing them with Tiffany technique inspired by kintsugi. To put an innovative spin on office furniture, Winner in Use (product) Troels Grum-Schwensen created PONTO Table-system where gravity locks the wooden legs to the strong aluminium-beam, allowing free leg-positioning, tool-free leg-mounting, and so much more.

Christian Baun, LICC jury member with more than 30 years in the design industry, said the following about the competition, "I am a jury in many different awards - but I value LICC very highly. Quite simply because the level is high - and because LICC has not exaggerated many categories (very appropriate). I am always very inspired and much wiser when I have been a jury for LICC, so thank you for inviting me to this honorable post."
