PORLAND, OR, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, March 9, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The National Sleep Foundation has announced that Sleep Awareness Week will be held between March 12th and 18th. The week aims to help support public education on the importance of sleep as well as showcase improvements made by companies through sleep-related research.

As part of its effort to raise awareness about the importance of good sleep, the reputable sleep optimization company ZAMAT has announced special promotions on its innovative line of cervical pillows during the Sleep Awareness Week.

Launched in 2017, the company's products have gained a strong reputation for reducing pain and improving sleep quality in a short period. This has earned them high praise in numerous publications, including Forbes, Glamour, and The Telegraph.

Talking to the media, its founder Cindy Chen said, "We are excited to offer our customers discounts on our products during Sleep Awareness Week. Nowadays, people spend countless hours on smartphones, computers, and tablets. Electronic devices have a huge impact on our sleep health and cervical spine health. Our pillows are designed to help people both during the day and at night. We hope the promotion will help more people alleviate chronic neck and back pain and get better quality sleep."
