The results of the consumer vote will be combined with ballots submitted by a panel of expert judges.

"Best of show" winners are then selected from among all eligible submissions for Packaged-Media Title of the Year, TV Disc Release of the Year and Best Blu-ray Disc. A "Fan-Favorite" trophy also will be awarded for the single title receiving the most consumer votes. Judges may also present awards based on special merit.

"We broadened the awards several years ago to include streaming because we want people to think of home entertainment as a broad, inclusive term," said Media Play News publisher Thomas K. Arnold.
