Trending Riding Mowers Market Trend

The launch of technically-advanced lawn mowers, such as robotic lawnmowers is gaining popularity in the riding mowers market. Robotic lawnmowers have gained popularity, owing to their durability and great working efficiency. For instance, in May 2022, Mammotion, a China-based provider of innovative electric robotics tools, launched LUBA, with smart robotic technology. It is the first perimeter wire-free robot lawn mower produced by the firm. By dispensing with conventional gas-powered push and ride-on mowers as well as the currently available robot mowers requiring perimeter cables, LUBA, which is designed particularly for residential usage, is poised to alter the future of lawn care maintenance.
