the You Are Not Alone Foundation will help bring mental health awareness to New Orleans at the benefit concert on April 28th at the Smoothie King. This marks Miller's second birthday bash in his hometown.

Last year the birthday gathering was star-studded, and the artist came to celebrate the Hip Hop Icon on his day.

Superstar entertainers Snoop Dogg, Jermaine Dupree, Nelly, and Keith Sweat were on hand for the celebration.

“Because last year was such a success, we performed to a sold-out crowd; I realized I could use this platform to make a difference for good. So, we decided to bring awareness to a cause that is near and dear to my heart. Mental Health,” said Miller.

“Mental Health is a disease we shouldn’t be afraid of; we are turning our pain into purpose to save lives,” continued Miller.

This year’s concert will be as exciting as last year's but for a greater purpose. The You are Not Alone Foundation, in conjunction with Percy Master P Miller’s birthday celebration concert, will help bring more awareness to this issue.

Miller serves as an ambassador for Nami (National Alliance on Mental Illness) for mental health advocacy. After the untimely passing of his daughter Tytyana to a drug overdose, Miller decided to become involved full force by helping other families that may be going through the same issues with mental health and drug addiction.
