Swimwear and Beachwear market-PMI

The pandemic has had a significant impact on market research, with some areas experiencing growth while others have declined. Online research and digital tools have become more important as face-to-face methods have become difficult, leading to an increase in the use of online surveys, focus groups, and social media analytics. However, some sectors that rely on in-person data collection, such as mystery shopping and ethnography, have been negatively affected. Overall, the market research industry is expected to continue growing as businesses prioritize understanding consumer behavior in an increasingly complex and rapidly changing
