Expectations in digital retail banking are changing quickly, as a new generation of customers expects information instantly from the palm of their hand. Consumers have more flexibility and options than ever in banking, and their needs are changing. Celebrus holds the key to connecting consumer data across digital interactions. Properly identifying and understanding the customer journey with your financial institution can make the difference in retaining a loyal customer or losing to another brand.

By visiting Celebrus at CBA Live, Booth #15, you can learn how Celebrus uses data to identify and prevent fraud while staying compliant with existing legislation and regulations.
