A food critic at the Denver Westword says, "Little India Restaurant & Bar undoubtedly stood a sensory joy of finest Indian cuisine." The essence comes from combining and celebrating diverse regional methods of cooking. An exceptional dining experience with attention to every aspect of service, food, and atmosphere that complements. Post-COVID, many restaurants had a lot of different ways to offer, but Simeran Baidwan, the owner of Little India, quickly realized the market and offered All-You-Can-Eat Lunch Buffet at $9.99 as a start last year. No other restaurant decided to offer the buffet at that mind-blowing price. Little India was the only restaurant excited to announce the relaunch of the lunch buffet near the Denver metro. A fan of vibrant and flavorful Indian cuisine cannot miss this experience. Starting this year, the buffet is now served seven days a week from 11 am to 3 pm, costing $16.99. A place for family, friends, colleagues, lovers, or acquaintances to enjoy a relaxing meal in a cozy and welcoming atmosphere.

Little India Lunch Buffet Options

Here is a sneak peek of some of the dishes in the lunch buffet:

- Chicken tikka masala: A classic dish made with tender chicken cooked in a creamy tomato-based sauce with aromatic spices.
- Palak/Saag paneer: A vegetarian favorite made with fresh spinach or saag and soft cottage cheese cubes, simmered in a fragrant gravy.
- Vegetable biryani: A rice dish made with various vegetables and aromatic spices, cooked to perfection.
- Naan: A fluffy and buttery bread that complements any Indian dish perfectly, with garlic and cheese as options to add.
- Mango lassi: A refreshing yogurt-based drink with a sweet mango flavor that will cool taste buds.
- Refreshing Salad: Mix of greens and beans, a refreshing vegan salad to start with.
- Gulab Jamun: The experience must end with an Indian sweet, delicious soft berry sized balls made with milk solids, flour, soaked in rose flavored sugar syrup & a leavening agent.

"Little India takes pride in using only the freshest ingredients and authentic spices in every dish to give the true taste of India. Whether customers are a seasoned fan or new to Indian cuisine, their buffet is an opportunity to explore India's diverse and delicious flavors." Says 5280 Magazine

The Baidwan family cares a lot about the community. Besides the various employment hurdles and fierce competition, Simeran understands the community and local needs to offer sumptuous authentic food at the best price. Little India offers well over a dozen delicious dishes that rotate daily, including meat of several kinds, plenty of vegetarian and vegan options, sides and beverages to go with, and classic Indian sweets or desserts to top it all off!
