

Dr. Paul Drago Launches Scholarship to Support Future Medical Professionals in the United States

Charleston Physician Paul Drago, MD Gives Back To Next Generation of Doctors

CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, March 16, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Paul Drago wants to help medical students financially, and with this inspiration, he established the Dr. Paul Drago Scholarship for Future Doctors. The grant will provide financial support to medical students in the United States. To qualify for assistance, applicants must be enrolled in any university studying medicine or on the path to becoming a doctor. High school students who aspire to be doctors in the future are also highly encouraged to apply. Application requirements include the applicant's full name, address, contact number, email address, educational background, GPA, and a short personal autobiography. In addition, students must submit an essay with a maximum of one thousand words in a word format to apply@drpauldragoscholarship.com. Applications for the Dr. Paul Drago scholarship are open until June 15, 2023. The winner will be announced on July 15, 2023, and will receive a one thousand dollar award.

Dr Paul Drago has vast experience in his field, and he knows the hardships medical students face to achieve their dream. He wants to give back to them through his scholarship program. He believes that a scholarship is one of the many ways to fund a student's medical dream. The grant is open to every university and high school student in the United States. Dr. Drago will select one winner based on their creative writing skills. The student with the best and straight-to-the-point essay will receive the one thousand dollar award. With this scholarship program, Dr. Drago wants to raise awareness about the hardships medical students face, especially in the United States.

Dr. Paul Drago

Dr. Paul Drago is a healthcare practitioner and philanthropist dedicated to giving individuals and families the tools they need to live a healthy lifestyle. He is determined to make this happen for as many people as possible. He received medical training at the Johns Hopkins Hospital – Brady Center for Cancer Research, the University of Maryland College Park, the Ohio State University School of Medicine, and the Institute of Emergency Medicine in New York City. He was previously a resident at the University Hospital of Cleveland and Queen Elizabeth Hospital and interned in the general surgery department at Yale New Haven Hospital. To give back to the community, he launched a scholarship program to provide financial assistance to medical students.

With the ever-increasing cost of medical school tuition and the minimum wage continuing to decrease, it's more important than ever for students to afford the life-changing education they want. The Dr. Paul Drago Scholarship for Future Doctors aims to support medical students financially. Dr. Drago seeks to provide scholarships to the best and brightest medical students in the United States, so they can pursue their dreams of becoming physicians, surgeons, and other healthcare professionals. For further details, applicants may visit Dr. Drago's scholarship website. If any applicants have questions, please fill in the box on the website's contact page. Dr. Drago is also open to collaboration for the scholarship, so don't hesitate to contact him. Dr. Paul Drago hopes that every qualified medical student will apply for this scholarship program as soon as possible!
