Dr. Fisher is absolutely awesome, very knowledgeable about his craft. Takes the time to review your options.”

Scott C.

“Dr. Fisher has helped thousands of men, women, and teens lose 20, 30, or even up to 200 pounds. He specializes in helping people to reach and maintain their goals! He is a board-certified physician practicing bariatric and weight loss medicine for over 30 years.” - Dr. Fisher.

Dr. Fisher's program combines a personalized approach to weight loss with the latest medical research to provide their patients with the most effective and sustainable weight loss solutions. The team of experienced medical professionals, including board-certified physicians, CRNP's, and registered dietitians, work together to create a customized plan for each patient, considering their individual needs and goals.

The program includes various weight loss options, including appetite suppressants, lipotropic injections, meal replacements, natural sprays, and injections. They also offer counseling on nutrition and exercise, support groups, and follow-up care to help patients maintain their weight loss.

Over the years, they have seen many success stories from their patients. They have helped people lose weight, improve their health, and increase self-confidence. They have also seen many of their patients go on to maintain their weight loss for years, even decades. Many have been able to decrease and even stop their diabetic, cholesterol, and hypertensive medications.

"We are honored to have been able to serve the Philadelphia community for 30 years, and we look forward to continuing to help people achieve their weight loss goals for many more years to come. We want to take this opportunity to thank our patients for entrusting us with their health and well-being, and we look forward to helping many more people in the future," says Dr. Fisher

Dr. Fisher's Medical Weight Loss Centers in Philadelphia is dedicated to providing patients with the highest quality care and the best possible results. Being committed to helping people achieve and maintain their weight loss goals, and we are proud to have been a part of so many success stories over the years.

Thanks again to their patients and the Philadelphia community for supporting Dr. Fisher over the past 30 years. Here's to many more years of helping people achieve their weight loss goals.
