NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, March 18, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The typhoid vaccine market is a growing industry that offers vaccination solutions for the prevention of typhoid fever, a bacterial infection caused by Salmonella typhi. The market includes both live attenuated and inactivated vaccines, and is expected to grow at a CAGR of 5.2% from 2021 to 2028, according to a report by Market.us Research.

One of the major drivers of the market is the increasing incidence of typhoid fever worldwide, particularly in developing countries with poor sanitation and hygiene practices. Additionally, rising awareness about the importance of vaccination, government initiatives for the prevention of typhoid fever, and the development of combination vaccines are also driving the growth of the typhoid vaccine market.

The largest market for typhoid vaccines is Asia-Pacific, driven by factors such as a large population base, high incidence of typhoid fever, and increasing investments in healthcare infrastructure. India, Pakistan, and Bangladesh are the key players in the region, accounting for a significant market share. North America and Europe are also significant markets, with a growing demand for typhoid vaccines due to increasing travel to endemic regions.
