LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, March 20, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- London and Houston, 20th March. Solidatus, the leading data management solution that empowers organizations to connect, visualize and govern their data relationships, and BigID, the leading platform for data security, privacy, compliance and governance, have today announced a ground-breaking partnership.

> I'm thrilled that BigID will bring additional metadata to enrich Solidatus clients' enterprise data blueprints. The sum of Solidatus and BigID is greater than the parts alone."
> Solidatus CEO and Co-Founder, Philip Dutton

This ambitious move comes in response to the companies' joint customers, who have requested a combined best-in-breed solution to provide enhanced metadata visibility. This solution will provide users with an active governance blueprint, delivering dynamic and real-time visualization of the flow of data across their enterprise. Organizations can proactively assess dependencies, quickly identify risks and immediately action the trusted insights gained from this new partnership.

The BigID Solidatus integration (explorer) provides active metadata lineage, which is augmented and enriched by BigID's data quality, security and rich metadata processing. Key benefits include: accelerating tool adoption; assurance and compliance across your data estate; and providing a single simple pane-of-glass view of the complex, interconnected organizational metadata increasing automation for instantaneous impact assessment and action.

BigID CDO, Peggy Tsai said: "We can't wait for joint customers to be able to visualize the metadata we host, including the augmentation done on metadata, and link it to other sources of metadata."

Solidatus CEO and Co-Founder, Philip Dutton said: "I'm thrilled that BigID will bring additional metadata to enrich Solidatus clients' enterprise data blueprints. Solidatus' users will be able to discover new data assets, classifications, profiling, quality, and risk metadata to automatically action insights gained from the deeper understanding of their data ecosystems. In short, the sum of Solidatus and BigID is greater than the parts alone."

This new partnership follows hot on the heels of last week's announcement that Solidatus and Corlytics have joined forces to automate the regulatory data supply chain end-to-end, from regulatory obligation to reporting compliance.
