Here are some of Mobile Edge’s top choices for Alienware enthusiasts:

The special edition Area-51m Elite backpack for Alienware laptops boasts a distinctive white exterior and silvery interior. Compared to traditional gaming backpacks, it’s a contrast in color that stands out. Produced in limited quantities, the white Area 51m Elite boasts a spacious 40-liter storage capacity. Measuring 14-inches wide by 21-inches tall and 9-inches deep, it fits a wide range of laptops and gaming consoles.

The Alienware M17 Elite Backpack is a lightweight backpack that does not sacrifice on features. This backpack fits laptops up to 16.3 inches x 11.2 inches x 1.5 inches. It’s loaded with features that include an expanding headset pocket, a convenient upper accessory pocket for sunglasses and quick-access items, and huge side stretch-knit pockets for water bottles.

For those who prefer a messenger bag style, the spacious Area-51m 17" Messenger Bag for Alienware laptops is loaded with custom features for storing and organizing laptops, tablets, headsets, cables, and more. Highlights include a quick access front pocket, adjustable shoulder strap, and trolley strap for securing the bag onto wheeled luggage.

Another way to show brand loyalty is to step out wearing brand-specific gaming apparel. More than just t-shirts and ballcaps, this apparel for Alienware fans includes highly-desirable hoodies, jackets, and beanies all featuring the iconic Alienware logo and/or look.

Last but not least, leveling up springtime gear isn't complete without a boost in mobile power capacity. CORE Gaming's new 24000 mAh capacity power brick packs a seriously huge charge in a lightweight, compact, airplane-friendly design. With four outputs, including a built-in AC outlet, this 65W powerhouse recharges up to four devices simultaneously. At 24,000 mAh (88WH), that's more than enough power to double a laptop's battery life. It's also more than enough juice to keep a smartphone fully charged for a week on the go.
