Data Vault Alliance Announces Panelist Participants for WWDVC 2023

ST. ALBANS, VERMONT, UNITED STATES, March 27, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ --

The Data Vault Alliance is pleased to announce the industry thought leaders who will participate in this year's round table discussion, to be held the day before regular sessions begin at the World Wide Data Vault Consortium 2023. The panel will take place on April 30, at the first ever Premium Business Monday Program, the day before technical sessions begin. This premium track, created in response to feedback from previous attendees, is focused on the concept of how to talk about Data Vault with the business side of organizations.

When asked about the upcoming panel session, Sanjay Pande of Data Vault Alliance noted, "These individuals bring a wealth of experience in how to talk to the business and engage them in the journey to delivering high-value analytic solutions by learning the language of the business." The lineup of panelists include:

Scott Ambler – Scott Ambler is an Agile Data Coach and Consulting Methodologist with Ambyssoft Inc., leading the evolution of the Agile Data and Agile Modeling methods. Scott was the (co)-creator of PMI's Disciplined Agile (DA). He helps organizations around the world to improve their way of working (WoW) and ways of thinking (WoT).

Troy Belanger – CEO of Kaizen Methods – is a former intelligence officer. He has architected, directed & led a number of significant DOD/IC initiatives in Big Data, Behavioral sciences, large scale analytics, security data lakes, and applied Narrow AI for cyber security. He is a CDVP2, CISSP and CCI.

Mark Budzinski – Moderator – CEO of Clean Data, Inc. Experienced, Successful, Pragmatic, and Straight-Talking business leader and strategist. Mark will be moderating the panel discussion and adding his perspective along with this panel of experts and thought-leaders.
