After High School Shawnise went to Pulaski Technical College where she excelled in her studies (making the Dean's List) and socially by pledging Phi Theta Kappa Beta Zeta Omega Chapter. Shawnise earned a certificate of completion in Medical Transcription in May 2007 and later graduated from The University of Arkansas for Medical Science with an Associates of Applied Science in Health Information Technology in December 2014.

At the Arkansas Heart Hospital, Shawnise had the great privilege of working with cardiologists and Cardiovascular & Thoracic Surgeons before going on maternity leave. Shawnise didn't see her traumatic medical experience coming and the subsequent permanent disability that ended her medical career at Arkansas Heart Hospital.

During her first year of recovery, Shawnise began to have flashbacks which spiralled into a deep depression and anxiety far worse than the postpartum depression which she developed while hospitalized.

To help her process and cope with the trauma and her unplanned new life, Shawnise sought the help of a therapist and psychiatrist. As part of her healing process, her psychiatrist recommended that she write a book about her experiences.

Therapy was life-altering and partly what the author credits with her current journey towards recovery. Addressing her mental health has brought Shawnise to the point of sharing her story from pain to triumph. Instead of staying stagnant she decided to shift her energy in helping others to turn their life around as well. We all have stories of struggles and overcoming those struggles. Shawnise believes by sharing her story, just may be the very thing that someone else, who is going through a similar situation may need to hear. The Shawnise Chantell Story: God Within the Lily, Released on June 19, 2022, the author desires to give people a token of what was given to her, which is HOPE.

Shawnise enjoys a good read filled with compassion, truth, and medical history. Her favorite book, The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks, was initially a reading assignment in college but became so much more! In addition to reading, Shawnise is a fan of performance arts, dance and music. She likes to read poems and paint also. Considering herself diverse and adventurous, in her spare time the author loves exploring nature, traveling, and staying active in general. Although jumping out of airplanes, climbing mountains and Citizens firefighter training is now a memory in the past, Shawnise is finding balance and cherishes every second of life with her kids and family. What's next for Shawnise, perhaps learning sign language in her spare time or writing a second book, who knows! One thing is certain and two things for sure, Shawnise Chantell's testimony will certainly open doors and hearts from generations to come.

Shawnise's birthday, August 16, has always been a grand and celebrated event since her 30th birthday. However, she now is so grateful to God that she can celebrate a second birthday (her rebirth) on August 28; The day God declared that she would live and not die!
