

Cannanda CB2® Oil for Dogs Granted "Veterinary Health Product" Status

Achievement recognizes CB2 oil as a safe and effective supplement for dogs

OTTAWA, ON, CANADA, March 23, 2023 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cannanda®, a leading provider of natural health supplements and the creator of "CB2 oil," is thrilled to announce that its CB2 Dog-Ease Hemp Seed Oil has been granted Veterinary Health Product (VHP) status by Health Canada. This product is a breakthrough in canine health and is now officially recognized for its safety and effectiveness.

Although it's often compared to CBD oil, Cannanda CB2® Dog-Ease Hemp Seed Oil is a specially formulated supplement that is safer than CBD oil because it doesn't have adverse drug interactions (which CBD does), has double the success rate compared to CBD, is legal to travel with across international borders, and is far more affordable. Unlike CBD oil, Health Canada has granted VHP status to CB2 Dog-Ease Hemp Seed Oil due to the extensive safety data available and its effectiveness in promoting canine health. By contrast, Health Canada has not granted approval to a single CBD product for dogs, even though CBD has been legal for human consumption since 2018.

Additionally, Health Canada has approved some substantial health claims, which include:

- May support joint health
- May help relieve stress during travel, diet changes, and weather changes
- May support a healthy immune system
- Supports general health
