"The addition of Wildcat Power Gen products on the GSA allows local, state, and federal agencies to buy our products without needing to issue a bid or request a solicitation. The GSA website makes it easy for government contract officers to fill supply orders of equipment and materials. We can supply them with American Made, Commercial Grade equipment designed to be used for long intervals and in commercial settings, knowing that the taxpayers are getting quality products,” stated Matthew Roeser, President of Engines LPG LLC. “We are proud that we can supply our country with American manufactured goods. This is our way to serve our country.”

“There are other manufacturers of power generators on the GSA, but for us what set Wildcat Power Gen apart was their commitment to American made products that are manufactured with commercial grade components. They back it up with a 3-year, 5,000-hour best in class commercial warranty too. We look forward to serving agencies, first responders, and all branches of the military with equipment they can count on,” stated Doug Godbey, Owner of Santa Fe Professional Solutions.
