

Light Beer Market [+CAGR of around 4.5%] | North America accounts for over 40% Share, Says Market.us

The global light beer market is expected to grow at a CAGR of around 4.5% during the forecast period (2021-2028).

NEW YORK CITY, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, March 23, 2023

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The global light beer market is experiencing growth, driven by increasing health consciousness among consumers, changing preferences towards low-calorie and low-alcohol beverages, and the desire for a more balanced lifestyle. Light beer typically contains fewer calories and lower alcohol by volume (ABV) content compared to regular beer, making it a popular choice for consumers who want to enjoy a beer while minimizing calorie intake and alcohol consumption.

North America is the largest market for light beer, driven by the United States and Canada, where there is a high awareness of health and wellness trends and an increasing demand for low-calorie and low-alcohol beverage options. The fastest-growing market is the Asia-Pacific region, driven by countries like China, India, and Japan, where increasing disposable income, health consciousness, and urbanization are contributing to the rising demand for light beer.
